The UTRECHT Workshop

Judgements can have a big impact on boards, teachers , leaders and students

High stakes means heavy responsibility

Passing a judgement is a challenge

Implies standards and rigor

Reliability and fairness

This is what it takes to live up to our reputation in a world where evaluators are numerous.

The conditions of a successful approach

What do researchers and academics have to say about the topic?

How can we collectively share and build?

What do stakeholders in the field have to say?

SICI needs you.

1. How do inspections support schools and providers to have the appropriate guidance and resources to reach both equity and excellence? How do members reach excellence through equity? What are the strategies used to do so? (differentiation in inspection forms, frequency, intensity, risk-based, board inspection, situation-based)
2. How do the different stakeholders influence the strategies that are implemented in each member country? How are they engaged and involved in the implementation of the strategies? How do we communicate the strategies to the stakeholders?
3. How are the results of the strategies evaluated? What indicators could be appropriate?
